

Sunripe Certified Brands is located in Palmetto, Florida. Nearly a century ago, the Esformes & Heller families began their journey in fresh produce on the streets of New York. Now in our fourth generation of family leadership, Sunripe Certified Brands is serving customers from coast to coast year-round with an extensive line of tomato varieties.

- Georgia is a top producer of fresh market tomatoes.
- Tomatoes are the second most consumed vegetable in the U.S. behind potatoes.
- Botanically, the tomato is a fruit, but in cooking it is considered a vegetable.
- The average American consumes around 80 pounds of tomatoes a year!

★ Tomatoes are an excellent source of vitamin A!
